at the Grand Atlantic.

Racers who arrive early on the ground will have an advantage over those who delay their coming till the last day. Climate conditions are so different from those which obtain in the North and West that a few days are necessary to get the machines properly "tuned up." Then,

Special Automobile news in the Daily News today.

Good Afternoon, Daytona.

THE DAYTONA DAILY NEWS makes its law to the people of Daytona and vicinity this afternoon. The daily will be published on the same lines so successfully carried out last session and hopes to please you all. A copy of to-day's paper will be delivered to every house in Daytona and on the peninsula, and it is the hope of the publisher that our carrier boys may be favored with your order for THE DAILY NEWS. The price will be 15 cents per week, the same as last year, and the carriers will collect some every Saturday night.

Mr. H. L. Murphy will assist the editor on the outside as local reporter and any courtesies shown him will be thoroughly appreciated by the publisher.

THE DAILY NEWS offers a field for the advertisers that should meet with liberal support from the merchants and business men of this vicinity. We want your advertising, and if we have not got around to see you, hope to receive your order personally or by phone.

Assist us in news gathering and we will give you a paper that will be a credit to Daytona.

Another Auto Arrives.

Among the guests who have recently arrived at the Van Dorn are Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Lusher, of Brooklyn, N. Y. This couple occupied Rose Villa last season and went there simply because Mr. Lusher was unable to have his Waverly electric auto charged here. To a reporter Mr. Lusher stated that he relived the greater benefits and pleasure of a stay here so he brought MILE IN THIRTY-TWO SECONDS.

F. A. La Roche, the Famous Chatter, Predicts This Time For The Coming Meet.

F. A. La Roche expects to lower the world's mile record of 39 seconds to 32 seconds this month on the Daytona-Ormond beach.

Mr. La Roche was in Philadelphia recently. He had just returned from Europe where he had competed in several auto races and made some remarkable speed records—notably the world's record for an hour's run, over 104 miles. Speaking of the meet here Mr. La Roche said to a North American reporter:

"I am going to Florida January 15, and will drive the 150-horse power car which the Darnay Automobile Company, of Paris, sold to E. M. Stock, President of the F. E.
C. A. A. I am confident of making a new record for the single mile. I am sure that I will make the short run in 32 seconds or less. I expect also to travel considerably more than 104 miles in an hour."

Mr. Roche will be accompanied on his Florida trip by Samuel Shaw, of Philadelphia, who will get as his assistant in the big racing arena.
This is the spirit with which it is to be hoped that all the drivers are imbued who are expected here. This spirit, backed by improved cars, will undoubtedly lower many, not only of last year's beach records, but records made abroad.

Makes Another Purchase.

Dr. Van Velsch, of Goodall, has made another purchase of property known as the old "Spencer House-stead," which was a part of the town of Orlis, already laid out, which he bought a few weeks ago.

This purchase gives him 150 more lots, and with his other purchase now owns about 350 lots. This site is located in a high, shell-like hammock, the shell will be used in making streets and roads. A bridge is now under consideration from Orlis to the opposite shore, and when completed a boulevard, 100 feet wide, will be made across the peninsula. The doctor has great faith in his purchases and as it is the end of the five-mile race course, will no doubt result in building up quite a resort.

The Big Tree

One of the curiosities well worth seeing near Daytona, is the Big Tree, five feet in circumference and covering about one acre, an oak, on the property of Mr. William Clark, four miles from town. The tree stands in a large orange grove and from the platform, high up in its branches, a good view is obtainable. Many of the older settlers have lived in the branches of this famous old tree and from that point of vantage shot deer and bear.

A sprinkling of marl on Beach street from the middle bridge to Volusia avenue would be appreciated by wheelmen.

another's poison. While it is true that Mr. Flager has made a score of places along the line of his railway pleasures for the rest hunter, the boatman, the fisherman, and the society mob, it is of Daytona that I sing. After all has been said and done, and the lights turned down, and the hush and the quiet and the after thought that comes when the blazon of the trumpets that proclaim the attractions of other Edens have faded out, Daytona stands alone—the fairest spot on the Southern Grand Tour.

I had been routine had I omitted to tell of the home life and social features of the people who like Paul of Tarsus, find in being "Citizens of no mean city." Peopled by cultured families, crowded with churches of all denominations, good schools, and an equable climate all the year, the home life on the Halifax is Custodian. The good folk, instead of allowing Time to kill them, hand out very hard thumps on the Old Father's venerable source. His quietness is delivered in various ways, some down him by boating, others stangle him with their automobile, then there are those who defy his savages by lying on the sand dunes and flirting with the sunshine; and last, but by no means least, there is the seemingly endless procession of the disciples of that good old discipular, Isaac Walton.

Society? Oh, yes. Society is the same all the world over. Toss, balls, drives and "visits." The real social life is unshared in the visits. Then there is the Club House, located on the new world-known Daytona-Ormond Beach, where luncheons are given and small talk is talked.
Small is the generally accepted sense of the word, not built in the peddling of scandal or her last's never-on-straight flings at one's neighbor.
Daytona, has not yet "progressed" that far. By common consent all reference to the idiosyncrasies and to the last year's frock of one's dearest enemy is strictly tabooed.

Only a mile away is the World's Automobile Playground, discovered by Mr. Hathaway, and explained by DAYTONA, HER FAMOUS BEACH.

An Interesting Article on Daytona's Beach From the Pen of C. G. Burgoyne, Ex-Pres. F. E. C. A. A.
From Motor and Boating.

A hundred miles south of Jacksonville, on the crowd line, on the west bank of the Halifax, basking in the sunshine, shaded by live oaks and fanned by the trade wind, lies Daytona.

It is nearly a quarter of a century since John Day drove across from the St. John's in his ox cart and laid out the now flourishing town, the first syllable of which bears his name.

Day built better than he knew, for who at that time could have foreseen the possibilities of the East Coast? Mr. Flager's locomotives had not yet frightened the wild things into the back hammock, but since the advent of that person saint of the eastern side of the State, the hamlet of which I write has grown into a great big home town. Had there been no Flager there had been no Daytona.

The traveler who comes to the little town on the Halifax expecting to find a typical Southern city has counted without his host. The buildings are replicas of those in any one of a hundred New England villages, while the residents, many of them, who preferably live there all the year round, are Southern only on the map. Some seeking health, others pleasure, come from the corners of the earth where the four winds are generated. There are not a dozen native families, which is regrettable. Why the Southerner gravitates New Yorkwards, and the Northerner, Daytona, Ormond and Palm Beachwards, is something that no fellow can find out. Maybe it is that the one longs for the glare of the lights and the crash of the brass on Broadway, while the other, satiated with that which his brother craves, seeks to rest his tired nerves on the sunny beaches of the Southland. What's one man's meat is

The Gazette-News

THE GAZETTE-NEWS is a weekly newspaper published at Daytona, Florida, by Geo. F. Crouch, in the interest of Daytona and vicinity, is Democratic, political, financial, and is an advocate of propriety, pure and good laws for our citizens. Its columns are devoted to bringing before our readers a brief and authentic account of the happenings of this place and of the adjoining communities. Our local correspondents are on the lookout for news items and are assisted by good correspondents from all nearby towns.

The Northerner who spends his winters here, the occasional winter resident, or those who are now making their first visit to our city, could invest no money where it would give them greater enjoyment for a year than $1.50 spent for a subscription to the GAZETTE-NEWS. In the course of a year it will tell the Northern reader what Daytona really is, and if our section of the country would be better suited to him than his present location.

As to health, we firmly believe that Daytona is as healthy a location as any spot in the United States, and is briefly quoted as "Daytona is best Paradise regained." To tell even briefly our advantages over other sections of the country in Health, Investments, Pleasure, and a place one can call Home, would consume too much space. And as a suggestion, for your personal enjoyment and business relations in the South, that you subscribe now for the GAZETTE-NEWS. We would be pleased to count you as a "Daytona advocate" and a GAZETTE-NEWS Reader.

New Smyrna Auto Road.

Work was started this morning on the new road from Daytona to New Smyrna, which the committee, appointed by the P. E. C. A. A. at its last meeting to superintend, expect to have completed by Jan. 23d.

Advancements have been made in the Jacksonville papers asking contractors to bid on the different sections of this road in order that it may be completed to completion.

The county commissioners have completed the bridge and approaches at Spruce Creek, and the town of New Smyrna will have the road from there to the bridge completed shortly. This will, when completed, give the auto drivers an excellent road which, with the extensions now built, extends along the Halifax for 25 miles.

There will be an important meeting at the City Hall to night, Jan. 2, at 7:30 o'clock. Matters will be discussed which affect the interests of every citizen and property holder. Please be present.

Prof. E. P. Harris, P. H. D., L. L. D., head of the Chemical Department of Amherst College, where this analysis was made, says: "This is a fine, clear and pure specimen of deep spring water, a little hard by reason of the magnesium and calcium carbonate, but not extremely so."

This analysis shows that, while rather hard for toilet and laundry use, our City Water is exceptionally salubrious for drinking purpose, and being derived from driven wells from 100 to 200 feet deep, passing through two or more layers of limestone rock it is unquestionably free from any possible contamination from surface drainage or injurious organic material. When freshly drawn it holds in suspension a certain amount of sulphurous gas, Sulphuretted Hydrogen, H₂S, which quickly separates and passes off into the air when relieved from the underground pressure. It is the presence of this volatile gas which temporarily gives to the water the peculiar taste and odor which so soon disappears after exposure to the air.

The Daytona Litter Water Plant furnishes this same water from which by a special process more than fifty per cent of the mineral constituents has been removed and it also provides a chemically pure distilled water. Either of these, plain or carbonated, may be advantageously substituted when a table water free from excessive hardness is preferred. Surface or rain water is better for the laundry or toilet.

New Smyrna Auto Road.

Work was started this morning on the new road from Daytona to New Smyrna, which the committee, appointed by the F. E. C. A. A. at its last meeting to superintend, expect to have completed by Jan. 23d.

Advertisements have been inserted in the Jacksonville papers asking contractors to bid on the different sections of this road in order that it may be rushed to completion.

Those who generously subscribed to the fund for this work are requested to make checks payable to J. A. Hendricks and send them at an early date to Capt. J. B. Parkinson. Sufficient funds have not as yet been raised for this work and all interested are requested to give the committee financial aid.

The county commissioners have completed the bridge and approaches at Spruce Creek, and the town of New Smyrna will have the road from there to the bridge completed shortly. This will, when completed, give the auto drivers an excellent road which, with the extensions now built, extends along the Halifax for 25 miles.

Notice!

There will be an important meeting at the City Hall to night, Jan. 2, at 7:30 o'clock. Matters will be discussed which affect the interests of every citizen and property holder. Please be present.

DAYTONA is situated upon the west bank of the Halifax River at its fairest expanse and midway between its source at Bulow Bay and its outlet at Mosquito Inlet. It is in latitude 29° seventy four miles from St. Augustine and one mile from the Atlantic Ocean, and is acknowledged to be without a rival for beauty among the villages of the South. Its site is upon what is known as high hammock land that was crowned by nature with a most royal growth of majestic forest trees, and among these trees is the town of today, with its beautiful cottages and well-graded walks and streets. The result is that all along the wide avenues that intersect the town are lovely live and water oaks and hickories, many of them draped with graceful festoons of the gray Spanish moss, that overarch the street and walks, and among these are interspersed tall tropical palmettos, glossy-leaved magnolias, fragrant bayas and coral-berried holly, and many other varieties, while in many places the wild grape, the trumpet vine and the ampelops climb and cling among the branches forming shady bowers and adding grace and beauty.

The town lies parallel with the Halifax River, and extends for nearly two miles along the shore. This river is the delight of the angler and the yachtsman and forms one of the town's greatest attractions.

The main avenues that run parallel with or intersect the river are all 100 feet wide, except Beach street, which is about sixty-five feet, but has a half-mile of open, beautiful water abutting upon its eastern side, where the salt waves ebb and flow and along and across which comes the cooling, invigorating and health-giving breezes from off the wide Atlantic, which temper and render the Halifax climate one of the most perfect in the world. Daytona has many miles of well-graded, marled and shelled roads and streets, rendering it the

and added to these, but a mile away, are thirty miles of smooth, hard beach, that affords an unrivalled course for long-distance cycling and driving or automobile racing. No town of equal size, North or South, numbers so many wheelmen, and cycling is a favorite pastime with the tourists summer and winter.

The Beautiful Cottages that have been erected during the past years and are being built are rendering Daytona as famous for its fine homes as for its beautiful river, trees and avenues, and they are adding yearly to its attractions.

Not the least of these attractions to those securing homes in the South, and ranking second only to healthfulness and perfection of climate, is the fact that its population is chiefly composed of cultivated and intelligent people, accustomed to the refinements of home and social life. Added to these features are good churches, good public and private schools, stores, hotels, laundry, meat markets, novelty works, an opera house, electric lights for street and house illumination, a good telephone system, ice factory, Lily Water Works, and hot and cold baths, etc., and everything else can be procured that is necessary to make life comfortable. An important feature in the healthfulness of this town is the

Water Supply
which is derived from numerous flowing wells, of which there are probably 300 in the corporate limits. This flow is secured by boring wells to the depth of from 80 to 120 feet, passing through several strata of rock, and this depth assures purity from all surface contamination. The water is slightly impregnated with magnesia and iron, and holds sulphur in the shape of gas, which soon passes away.

The Population of Daytona proper is about 1,800. Added to this is a suburban population on main shore and peninsula of about 1,000 at Kingston, Blake, Old Seabreeze or Goodall, Seabreeze and Silver Beach, which are properly a part of the town and population.

Daytona Beach
lies one mile east of the town. It is approached by three good bridges over the river and well-graded avenues, and is the principal summer resort south of St. Augustine. It has more tourists during the summer than all other places south of that city combined, and is also becoming a favorite winter resort. The beach is wide, firm and smooth, by many considered the finest in the world, and the surf bathing is safe and excellent summer and winter. People who have tried Northern and Western summer resorts declare that there are none so perfect in comfort as Daytona beach.

Automobile Race Meet.
The Florida East Coast Automobile Association conducts an annual race meet on the beach, which has now a universal reputation as the greatest automobile race course in the world. The Daytona-Ormond Beach is hard as macadam, and an ideal stretch of thirty or more miles without a break makes it the natural racing ground for America.

At low tide the beach is bare for 300 feet and neither carriage wheel, bicycle or pedestrian can make a hardly visible imprint on the smooth and well-packed sand. It is no uncommon sight to see sail-rigged bicycles speeding with the velocity of the wind before a stiff breeze along the smooth beach, thus affording the most exhilarating sport known to man. Besides these, miles of hard-shelled, palm-fringed boulevards bring the lovers of the wheel and vehicles into direct touch with the mainland over the broad bridges which span the splendid Halifax River.

The beach from the sandy bluffs to the lowest point at ebbside, measures about 500 feet, and the average depth of the surf measures about two feet. A continuous gentle swell rolls in from the ocean from one to two feet in depth under normal conditions, making the beach an attractive and absolutely safe place for surf-bathing. Here the infant as well as the grey-haired veteran of many summers, can safely enjoy the luxury of a sea bath throughout the larger part of the year, while the strong and expert swimmer, can venture out further to test his strength and skill in battling with the inexhaustible powers of the mighty ocean.

The Peninsula
lying between river and ocean is one-half mile wide, and is being rapidly improved, and there are many fine cottages and several good hotels, an opera house, two ocean piers, beach pavilion and a large casino.

A Remarkable Feature
at Daytona has been the yearly improvement in the style and value of the buildings that are being erected for homes. Men of capital of the North and West have become awakened to its advantages for winter residences, and valuable lots are being purchased and costly houses, beautiful in design and finish, are being erected, and beautiful homes, the abodes of wealth and culture are multiplying. Seabreeze (City Beautiful) and Goodall are settlements on the Ocean side of the peninsula across the Halifax River from Daytona.

At the foot of Ocean Boulevard, Seabreeze, a pier reaches 600 feet across the beach into the swelling surf of the ocean. This pier is a favorite resort of those who delight in the sport of fishing. The surf here abounds in trout, pompano, yellowtail, cavalle, whiting, drum, sheepshead and many other varieties of edible fish. During the fall season the famous sea bass affords royal sport, and it has been no uncommon occurrence to land a thousand pounds of this gamey fish in an afternoon, individuals of them ranging from fifteen to thirty-five pounds in weight. Not only does the ocean offer this splendid sport but the Halifax River, only half a mile back of the ocean, is equally famous for its fine fishing, and the varieties that abound in the ocean are present in the river.

Hunting and fishing good. Experienced guides and dogs may be had at reasonable prices.

that prince of promoters, W. J. Morgan. It is there that Mr. Vanderbilt smashed the world's record into little bits by burning up a mile in 39s, in commemoration of which feat and to do honor to that idol of true sportsmen everywhere, the Florida East Coast Automobile Association has nailed his "record" to its doorplate. No one is more anxious that it be broken than its holder—the more especially if he break it himself. That the Daytona-Ormond Beach, swept by the tidal broom twice a day, is the only "safe and sane" straightaway race course in the world is conceded by automobilists everywhere.

In January, it is predicted that the figures of our fellow club-man, Mr. Vanderbilt, will be lowered. The condition of the beach, the stand-up-under-the-strain of the car and the iron nerve of the man behind the steering wheel, are the factors to be juggled with.

The Club house, not elaborate, but commodious, comfortable, homelike, and pervaded with the spirit of good fellowship, is located opposite Daytona on the bluff overlooking the speedway. It is the Mecca of the members. To augment its membership and provide entertainment for their friends is the sole ambition of its president.

Present indications are that the coming meet will forever establish the Daytona-Ormond Beach as the world's racing ground. It is expected that the value of the prizes will aggregate $20,000 and that everybody will be glad he came and go home happy with his automobile loaded with trophies.

During the past summer this house has been much improved and altered from a hotel with rooms only to one of the daintiest and best appointed of the smaller hotels in the city. A prominent lady and gentleman lately attended a meeting in the colored settlement here to aid in forming a Woman's Christian Temperance Union. Quite a large number of the colored men were present, but no women. When attention was called to the fact by the visitors one of the would be organizers arose and said: "No sir; we don't want no women. This is to be a W. C. T. U. for men only!"

A CURIOUS PHENOMENON.

The Singular Noises at Nakous, on the Red Sea.

A singular phenomenon occurs on the borders of the Red sea at a place called Nakous, where intermittent underground sounds have been heard for an unknown number of centuries. It is situated at about half a mile distant from the shore, whence a long reach of sand ascends rapidly to a height of 300 feet. This reach is about 80 feet wide and resembles an amphitheater, being walled by low rocks. The sounds coming up from the ground at this place recur at intervals of about an hour. They at first resemble a low murmur, but ere long there is heard a loud knocking somewhat like the strokes of a bell and which at the end of about five minutes becomes so strong as to agitate the sand.

The explanation of this curious phenomenon given by the Arabs is that there is a convent under the ground here, and that these sounds are those of the bell which the monks ring for prayers. So they call it Nakous, which means a bell. The Arabs affirm that the noise so frightens their camels when they hear it as to render them furious. Philosophers attribute the sound to suppressed volcanic action—probably to the bubbling of gas or vapors underground.—Newcastle (England) Chronicle.

THE BARN DOOR SKATE.

A Landlubber's Description of This Peculiar Fish.

The barn door skate beggar's description. I never could tell whether he was looking at me with his eyes or his breathe holes. He is a bottom fish and flat like a flounder. He has a triangular body, the apex of which forms the snout; opposite his snout are his tail and a few extra pieces of his overcoat, which kind nature has tagged on to him in case he gets torn and has to be mended. His tail is embellished with a few spines—this I know for a fact.

He has a couple of eyes a little way back of his snout, and right back of these are a couple of holes that extend completely through him. These holes connect with his lungs, or whatever he uses to breathe with, and have an uncomfortable way of looking at you at the same time as his eyes.

He has a mouth, too, but it is on the under side of him and convenient for business. It is a funny thing, with spines on the lips, and when you pull the lower jaw the upper jaw moves with it—a sort of automatic trap, not unlike what you can see in any ten cent restaurant. This is a landlubber's description, but it is enough—Country Life in America.

THE WORD DOLLY.

Originally It Was the Name of a Fabric For Summer Wear.

Though the word dolly is now restricted in meaning to the small cloth that covers a dessert plate, it had originally a much wider significance. It seems to have been introduced as a cheap and fashionable fabric, specially for summer wear, about the latter part of the seventeenth century, for Dryden speaks of "dolley petticoats," and Steele in the Tatler mentions "a doyley suit."

The name has been long connected with a London firm, trading as linen drapers, in Upper Wellington street, Strand, who occupied the great old corner house next to Hodsoll's, the banker, from Queen Anne's time to 1850. Though their name happens to be the same as that of the stuff, there is no authority for linking the two together.

Wedgwood rejects derivation and suggests the Dutch dwale, a towel, or, better still, the Swiss dwalell, a napkin. The dolly itself used to be called a "dolly napkin" till shortened by customary usage.—London Standard.

His Person Sacred.

The person of the Korean emperor is sacred. If human hand touches him it is sacrilege, and the punishment for sacrilege is death. If the emperor touches a subject he becomes sacred. The emperor's name must be mentioned only in whispers. His portrait is never painted except after death. Then it is worshipped. Once a foreign ambassador sought to present the emperor with the portrait of his sovereign. But the minister for foreign affairs regarded the offer as an outrage, and the portrait was never accepted. The emperor's power is boundless; his word is law, and he owns everything, land and people, without restriction. A simple wish is a command.

Shopping in the Philippines.

A traveler in the Philippines writes: "There is no place where shopping is easier than in Manila, for it is almost absolutely impossible to buy anything you require. You can nevertheless purchase, if you are so inclined, everything you do not want—and soiled at that—at four times or so its normal value."
